WARRENTON, VA.

(Special to the Times-Dispatch.)

WARRENTON, VA. April 22.—The fact that Warrencon is well filled with strangers for this season of the year, makes to predict that the summer is not going to be uninteresting because of a scarcity of guests. Many of the transfents from a northern cline, noted with surprise the appailing change in the weather during the early part of this week. April was rudely transformed into March and the town was whitened temporarily with a snow flurry, which obscured from view the top of "Watery Mountain."

The meanthership banquet, given Tucsday seening My the Bowling Club and the V. M. C. A. Was and were rather unique, being in the transfer of the prints, which color and pearing gill lettering.
